

Example

Frank Thiele

Frank Thiele is a very famous investor in Germany. He began to program when he was 16 years old. He founded his first company with 18 years. He was 25 years old and the dotcom bubble happened. The company went bankrupt. It was private insolvency. He had debts up to 1 million euros. He went back to his parents. He had a very modest life in this time, but he did not give up. He founded a new company and he learned from his mistakes. Some years later he sold his company and he was millionaire.

A indian man

Successful people and the best example would be one of my uncles. He started with nothing and today he is known as the plastic man of Gujrat. He started working in a plastic manufacturing company as an employee but later his hard work and dedication helped him to be the owner of one of the biggest plastic manufacturing company. He worked day and night and he had the spirit to be successful in his field and today he is.

An anonymous person 1

Another person, I know who lived in my neighborhood struggled in all his life to collect money so that he can start a business, to start his business he wanted to shift to a cheaper country to earn more so he decided to shift to Nepal in the year of 2015 and build a huge building but unfortunately that was an unlucky year because Nepal faced a big disastrous Earthquake. And since he wasn't a citizen of Nepal he didn't get any money from the government for his loss. But his thought of collecting money whole life for his final dream and going into a loss was killing him so he took a general training from an agency and did a normal job for another 3 years and again saved money and again build his dream. And he's doing very well in his field now. What I think is successful about him is never stopping himself from stepping towards his goal and it doesn't matter whatever happens. His loss was too big that if I would have been in his place I might have lost hopes.

An anonymous person 2

Another person, I know who lived in my neighborhood struggled in all his life to collect money so that he can start a business, to start his business he wanted to shift to a cheaper country to earn more so he decided to shift to Nepal in the year of 2015 and build a huge building but unfortunately that was an unlucky year because Nepal faced a big disastrous Earthquake. And since he wasn't a citizen of Nepal he didn't get any money from the government for his loss. But his thought of collecting money whole life for his final dream and going into a loss was killing him so he took a general training from an agency and did a normal job for another 3 years and again saved money and again build his dream. And he's doing very well in his field now. What I think is successful about him is never stopping himself from stepping towards his goal and it doesn't matter whatever happens. His loss was too big that if I would have been in his place I might have lost hopes.

Jochen Schweizer

Jochen Schweizer was an extreme athlete. After his extreme athlete life, he founded a new company. The company is known for extreme sports facilities. He has extreme athlete facilities for bungee jumping. In the year 2003 a bungee rope cracked. One person died. He came in an emotional crisis. Temporarily, he closed all extremely sports facilities. The company got financially problem. He did not want to give up and he changed the company's structure. Now the company is one of the biggest company for extremely sports facilities.

Steve Jobs

Steve Jobs founded apple. In the year 1984 the computer Macintosh was introduced. The computer was a flop. This was the reason why apple got problems. The main responsible person for the macintosh was Steve Jobs. He was thrown out of his company. He did not give up and he founded a new computer company ,Next'. In the year 1989 he presented a computer, but the computer was a flop too. For certain reasons apple bought ,Next'. Steve Jobs became CEO.

An anonymous friend

A friend liked to ride his bike. 2006, he began to train for competition. He wanted to level up. He need 5 points per year or he win a competition for a level up. 2009, he got the first points, but it was not enough. 2010 he got only 1 point, but he did not give up. 2011 he got 2 points. 2012 he got 2 points too. 2013 he had 2 points and then he won a competition in Fuldabrück. He leveled up .

Tizian

I came to Vilnius. I wanted to go to my Airbnb but I did not receive the flat. I came in the flat after 3 hours. It was a rainy day. I was wet. I was overwhelmed with the situation. I did not speak good English. Normally, I wanted to search a flat with 2 french girls and 1 german guy but in the evening, they cancel the search because it was to complicate to find a flat with 4 persons. I did not know what I should do but then I called my sister and then I saw the advantage. I have a very nice flat in the city centre with 2 cool french girls now.

Walt Disney

Walt Disney was fired from a newspaper because they thought that he has not enough imagination. The first short movies were a flop. He needed money. He got 302 cancelled. They thought the idea that animals can speak is too stupid. The next investor got him the money. Today Disney is a big company in the world.

The Beatles

The Beatles didn't have a good start. They played in some shabby clubs. They got a lot of rejections from record labels. One producer had a little bit pity and he gave him one hour in a sound studio. In this hour the Beatles created their first nr. 1 hit.

Henry Ford

Henry Ford's first company went bankrupt. Henry Ford did not give up and with his wife's help. He founded a new company and the company was very successful.

Joanne. K. Rowling

Joanne. K. Rowling is the author of Harry Potter. She is one of the most famous example for my question. She went to all publishers with the first Harry Potter book but she only rejections. They said that the book is too long, and it is not commercial enough. Joanne. K. Rowling did not give up. She tried again with success. A publisher printed 500 examples. Today the Harry Potter books sold more than 400 Million. The Books was translated in more than 65 languages.

Steven Spielberg

Steven Spielberg is a very famous producer and director. He wanted to study film studies, but he got cancelled twice. He did not give up he believe in his dream. Now Steven Spielberg produces movie like Indiana Jones.

Sylvester Stallone

The most people thought that Sylvester Stallone is a very bad actor. He did not get an agent. He received a lot of rejections. A lot of people said to him that he should do another thing. He sold furniture for his livelihood. He got the idea for Rocky. He found a producer for the movie. He sold the rights for the movie for the condition that he is he main character in this movie. Now Sylvester Stallone is a Hollywood legend.

Michael Jordan

Michael Jordan want to play basketball, but he could not play in his school team because he was too small. This was the reason why he trained more and more. Michael Jordan was one of the best basketballer in the history.

Colonel Sanders

Colonel Sanders founded the company Kentucky Fried Chicken. He was 65 years old and then he started his idea. He drove with a car across the country. He slept in his car. He did this for 2 years and he got 1009 cancelled. Then he got an acceptance. Now Kentucky Fried Chicken is one of the biggest fast food companies in the world.

Marilyn Monroe

Marilyn Monroe often heard that she has a bad profile. They said that she had a bad nose. She had a bad attitude. Columbia pictures said that she is not pretty, and she has not a talent. Later she was the most photographed woman in the world.

Attila von Unruh

He had a lot of difference company. The last company was an event agency, but the company went bankrupt because a big customer did not pay. He did not give up, but it was too late. He saw that a lot of other people have the same problem. He founded a new company to help companies with problem. It is a big network in Germany.

Jenaer Carsten Goldschmidt

He founded a company for rheumy medication. He was on the target straight but then he did not receive money from his investor. After some weeks in the crisis he stood up and he founded a new company with the same goal.

My Question is: "If I fail what I should do?" / "if I fail how can you go up?"

What do my question means?

Every person fails in his live. Some people fail very deeply other people do not fail as deep, but the most people do not know how they can stand up and this is the reason why they fall deeper and deeper. The question is: "how can I stand up?" / "How can i come to the same level that I had in my life" / " how can I go to the next level". What is a failure? A failure situation can be everything. You fail in an exam. You do not know how you get the information. You get existential fear. A loved person died. A relationship is over. You are fire from your job. You do not find any good friends. Etc

It is bad to fail?

Should a person fail? Should a person fail less? I think each person wants to avoid failure. They think the best is if we only go only up. Is it really the best? I think it is very important that we sometimes fail. We can appreciate our live and what we have. We can see that it is very important to have a good family. It is very important to have good friends. We can appreciate more the small things. We have an adage that says: " We want this what we do not have". I think the most people have a wonderful live, but they did not see it. They do not realize what they have. Failure is not bad. If you fail, you are stronger after these crises. The most famous people fail at least once in their life. They learn from their mistakes. Winston Churchill said to this topic " Success is not final, failure is not fatal: it is the courage to continue that counts." We learn from the failure. We learn math in the elementary school and we fail on the task. We fail but we understand the task and the next time we solve the task. The question is not that we fail the question is " we stand up or we do not stand up?". Another example is that all people cannot speak in the beginning. We fail after our first try to speak but we do not give up and now we can speak. We think that failure is a negative thing in our live but it is not negative it is normal. If you have a dream you would often fail but this is normal. We shouldn't consider the failure as failure. It is a challenge. If you are in a club and you go to a girl/boy and the person has not interesting. What does a successful person do. You go to the next bar stool or the person go to the next person because we know failure is not failure it is a challenge.

Typical answers about my questions

The typical answers to my question is that you keep going. You should not lament. You should not give up. You should only look at the situation from different views. You should learn from your failure. You should accept the failure. It is normal to fail. It is not a negative thing. It is normal to fail in life.

Why do I choose this question?

This is a very important part in my paper why I chose this difficult question. I could have chosen an easier question. There are more philosophers for other topic. It was difficult to find a philosophy for this topic. I chose the question because in that moment it was a very important question for me. Some days before a girl separated from me. I failed. I was in a crisis. I wanted to know how I can stand up. I do not know what is the next step. I was in an identity crisis. I do not know what I want. I can do a lot cool stuff in my Erasmus semester. I can go to many parties. I can go to many different events. I can find very good friends. I can meet a lot of people from Europa. I can get a lot of new views of the world. I can relax because I have a study hard (today I think different. I think that I stressed myself because everyone does). I can improve myself. I can work from a company. I can work out. I can train my brain. I have so many choices that I do not know what I want. This was the reason that I failed again. I failed in my live very often and I did not know what I should do. I failed because of so many small things and every time I do not know how can I stand up for myself. If I fail it was very negative for me. If I had a bad game in handball. Then I wanted to do better but I failed again. I think that failure is painful, but I learned from my failure. I learned from my mistake. I have become much better with the failure, but I want that I want to improve in this topic. I want to think that failure is not a negative thing. This is life. It is normal. I want to have a solution that if I fail I know what I should do. I think that the most important part consider failure it is not the end of the world. First you must look at the situation from different view point. You will understand that the problem has a solution.

The Example analysis

I read a lot about this topic and I understand that successful people have no luck. They do not give up and they believe in their dreams. If they fail, they stand up. Maybe they fail 302 times but then you are successful(Walt Disney).You need a good dream and you need a strong will. You must have a good plan and you must learn from your failure. Sometimes you need a good idea for your dreams (Sylvester Stallone). He had an idea for a movie(Rocky) because of the movie he has become a famous actor. You should not give up because other people think it is not a good idea. You should listen because maybe you can learn something. You consciously work for your dream. Maybe the dream is stupid but then you will get a new dream. A lot of people have a dream and they fail. They got a new dream and they were successful (twitter founded). Sometimes you need a little bit luck / pity. The Beatles did not get a signed. A producer has a little bit of pity. He gave an hour in a sound studio and they created a nr. 1 hit. This was the biggest mistake in the label history. Sometimes you need a person to support your dreams (Henry Ford). Henry Ford's wife was a person that believe in the dreams of her husband. Henry Fords was uncertain. He would do a lot of testing for the car. She believed in her man. One day she drove to her sister. The sister live 100 kilometres away. This was incredible in this time. The next day this was the topic on the newspaper. Henry Ford has become very famous. You need a good will for small dreams. My anonymous friend rode the bike so many times. He lost so often but he did not give up. He got his dreams after 5 years.

The recipe for standing up.

- 1.) The failure
- 2.) The failure acceptance
- 3.) Don't go crazy. This is not the end of the world.
- 4.) do not complain
- 5.) you should ask questions. Why did I fail.
- 6.) You should learn from your failure.
- 7.) You should keep going

Conclusion

I read a lot for this topic. I thought a lot about topic. It was very interesting. I saw a lot of different views for this topic. I got my first answers. It was a new experience that I got answers for my questions which are important questions in my life. It was very inspiring. A lot of people failed in their life, but they did not give up. You need solely a dream and you need a big will. Sometimes you need a bit of luck or the right person on your side.

